1. The amendment filed 6/21/04 has been considered and entered. Claim 1 has been canceled. Claims 43-58 have been added.
2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
3. Newly submitted claim 58 is directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

The micromechanical system could be made by another and materially different process other than one which includes dissolving the sacrificial layer with a hydrophilic and a hydrophobic moiety such a one that is a non-ionic detergent or alky and polyether-linked hydroxy groups. In addition, a micromechanical system can be formed without a sacrificial layer which would obviate the step of dissolving and suppressing.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claim 58 is withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Double Patenting

4. Claims 1 and 43-57 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-22 of U.S. Patent No. 6,616,853. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the only difference lies in the fact that the '853 patent recites the phrases: depositing, patterning and etching; the release solution acting as an electrolyte to form a galvanic cell and suppressing effects of the galvanic cell. The instant claims fail to recite such limitation, however, the structure being treated is the same as well as the treating solutions.

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).
